FRIDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1923.

Canada Is No Subject.

It would do no violence to truth, reason, or Imperial solidarity if prominent men and newspapers in Great Britain would get hold of the idea that they are not helping a bit to strengthen the bonds of Empire when they suggest that Canada is susceptible of entertaining a half-formed desire to annex itself to the United States.

Dividing the Honors.

Hon. Robert Rogers has recovered speech, and remarks that the late misadventure of the party headed by the famous Board of Strategy was "only an accident."

Hon. Robert is ready, as ever, to play the game on a fifty-fifty basis. Presumably, he takes the blame for the upsets and Hon. Robert to take the credit for the wins.

A Hopeless Outlook.

The Toronto Telegram arraigns, tries and condemns the Liberal newspapers of Canada for trying to foist Neighan leadership upon the Conservative party for another term.

The Toronto Mail and Empire arraigns, tries and condemns the Liberal press of Canada for having "hypothesized" Conservatives into thinking that Neighan leadership is not a success.

Semingly there is just nothing that Liberal papers can do to make the Liberal-Conservative controversies except to allow the Liberal party to get linked, and it is too late for that.

This in Canada.

A Montreal driver got drunk on "wood alcohol," ran his truck onto the sidewalk and killed a boy. The jury freed him of all criminal responsibility.

But the matter may not end there. Perhaps a vigilant police force will yet round him up on a charge of disorderly conduct and a magistrate penalize him two dollars and costs for his little escapade.

The judiciary of Canada is to be congratulated in that it is a jury—not a judge—which established this precedent that killing while drunk is only a minor offense, if any.

Chicago must look to its laurels.

What Section Is Immune?

Fifty thousand acres of corn have been totally destroyed by rain and flood in Illinois, and the damage to this crop in that state alone is estimated at ten million dollars.

Proat, car worm and would be credited with having left one-half of the corn crop in the state of Iowa unfit for market.

Western Canada can set up no claim to the sole and unwilling proprietorship of the kind of weather that is not wanted in harvest time.

Depression of the market price of wheat because of unfavorable harvest weather may be less than anticipated. The world has to eat something and will have difficulty finding any considerable section of this continent where grain crops have not been damaged by the same kind of weather or a worse kind.

Under Ground and Above.

For forty odd years coal-miners have been digging the foundations from under the Edmonton townsite. Periodically public interest and official attention have been called to damages done to streets and buildings, apparently by the sinking of the surface because of these underground operations.

The mining is still going on, and the city council is once more wrestling with the problem of protecting the property of tax-payers and the corporation driveways against the effects of subsidence. In the eastern part of town, on Jasper Avenue and the Ada Boulevard, the pavement has in places been badly dislocated and considerable reconstruction is necessary.

It is claimed that when mining is properly done there is little danger of a subterranean cave-in serious enough to affect the surface. That of course is a matter for experts to determine, and upon their answer probably hangs the decision as to whether mining in the city limits will have to be eventually prohibited or done under supervision.

Meantime, the publicly important point is that the coal mining industry is one of very great and of consequence to the people of the city. Hundreds of Edmonton citizens get their living, in one way and another, from the business of mining, delivering, and shipping coal, and from the trade which lives upon the wages of the miners and teamsters and the profits of the operator.

Interference with an industry of that kind has to be approached with deliberation and only carried to the extent that is found to be necessary. Anything in the way of a summary prohibition of mining in the city, particularly at this time of the year, would throw a large number of people out of employment, curtail the growth process which the community collects from the coal trade, and reflect adversely upon general business.

The city has not tumbled into an abyss despite the mining operations of upwards of half a century. The inference is that it will not crumble into ruin if the council takes time to make a study of the question, with the assistance of expert advice, in hope of finding a way by which to prevent damage to buildings and streets and at the same time allow this very important local industry to keep going.

Philosophy

By EDGAR A. CRANE

Some tell us that life is but a dream.
 Some say: "I think, and thus I know I am!"
 Some: "The mind controls the physical part."
 Another declares: "It is the heart."
 Bewildered by philosophy I cry:
 "I know I live, I know that I must die."

I read the coffee and I'm lost in doubt.
 The truth befalls just their thoughts to me.
 So deep they delve I cannot see the way.
 One tells me "yes," the other whispers "no."
 To find the truth I have I will admit.
 Doubt still exists in spite of Holy Writ.

I only know that honest men and true
 Seem to be prepared in the work they do.
 I feel I owe it to this life still more.
 Life seldom gives us what we do not earn.
 Philosophers may find some subtle test.
 I know myself when I have done my best.

Not all the wisdom from a sage's pen
 Alarms this fact that life is lived with men.
 That here we are, and here we all must stay.
 'Till at last death summons us away.
 My position then is to be not that I
 Shall neither be afraid to live nor die.

What Use Is a Baby?

By DR. FRANK CRANE

One hundred thousand women, each wearing a blue armband emblemized with a silver dove and carrying banners inscribed, "Where Reason Rules There Is No War," marched down the streets of London not long ago in a pacifist procession demonstrating their peace speeches, passed resolutions, and then went home.

Had Mrs. Bland been standing on the sidelines, he would have heard little loud guttural sounds.

What can women, speeches and resolutions do in the face of the sword? The answer is: nothing.

However, if Mrs. Bland is a philosopher—what there is to be said by the sword is that the sword is the only thing that counts.

Every great moral movement, from the Reformation to the abolition of slavery, began with a few people who fought against what they considered an evil until others joined them and the movement gained momentum and power.

Each began as a baby and grew to the power of the storm.

At one time about each a contemptuous "What good does it do?" was asked.

The powerful movement of today was the feeble movement of yesterday which was grounded on the right.

Do You Remember?

FORTY YEARS AGO

From the Edmonton Bulletin, Saturday, October 2nd, 1883.

Twenty payments in the Edmonton agency commenced Thursday at the Two Mills reserve. Only about $250 was paid out, chiefly to old women and children. The balance of the money was held in the hands of the agent.

Quite a stampede to Hare's mine up the river has developed this week. The mine is situated on the north side of the river, and is owned by Hare.

Several of the men who were at the mine on Thursday were seen to be armed with revolvers and pistols.

The hall which fell last Saturday was the latest in any series of such accidents. It was built by W. A. Wilkison, living on the road to Millers.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY
 Diet Specialist and Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions on Health and Diet answered by Dr. McCoy, when addressed in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

A GOOD CURATIVE DIET
 I am often asked "How does diet cure?" and my answer is always, "diet does not cure."

Let me explain just what I mean by this statement. Your body will cure itself from any ailment if you give it a chance. The part diet plays in a cure depends upon the removal from your diet of those foods which interfere with a cure.

In short, it is necessary to use only the right amount of the essential food elements and no more, and then and then only can the body set about to remove the wastes from the system and to eliminate the poisons accumulated from too much food of the wrong kind.

To get a good start with this elimination it is the best plan to stop the use of all food for a few days, or use only a limited amount of fruit juice, such as orange juice, with large amounts of water to assist in eliminating the wastes.

Wash the skin several times daily by shower and sponge baths and use at least one enema daily of a quart of warm water. Continue this fasting for at least a week and then go on the following diet:

Breakfast: One egg prepared in any manner except by frying. Three or four slices of Malted toast (any kind of bread cut through half an inch).

lunch: One slice of stewed prunes. Small dish of rice or of plain boiled potatoes. Small dish of fruit or of plain boiled potatoes.

Dinner: Choice of one or two of the following: cooked meat, poultry, fish, eggs, small beans, carrots, parsnips, turnips, lettuce, celery, avocado, or ripe olives.

Supper: Same as dinner. If you are a vegetarian, use only vegetable food.

Choice of one or two of the following: salad, vegetables, celery, lettuce, asparagus, cucumbers, parsnips, small beans, carrots, parsnips, turnips, lettuce, celery, avocado, or ripe olives.

Supper: Same as dinner. If you are a vegetarian, use only vegetable food.

Opinions

THE E.D. & C.

Editor, Bulletin—

Sir: Having observed in the editorial columns of the Journal issue of Sept. 28, 1923, an article referring to the future operation of the E.D. and C. railway after the expiration of the C.P.R. present lease.

I beg to state, that the obvious responsibility of our Alberta representatives who are at the present time operating successfully the A. and G.W. railway, a route which runs through the most fertile territory that which feeds the E.D. and C. railway, cause only the bitterest regrets and disappointment in the men we have pledged our faith and support.

Why all this back and acknowledge the facts already printed to the extent of $250,000 or more profit every year for the C.P.R. since the commencement of the lease. Why not show a little appreciation of the support and faith in the lease. Why not show a little appreciation of the support and faith in the lease.

BEAUTY QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Underweight in the Teens
 M. W. writes: "I am 14 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall and weigh 107 pounds. Is that correct? (1) I suffer with both blackheads. How can I get rid of them? (2) How does one get rid of freckles? (3) I have medium brown hair and blue eyes. I wear a shingle bob and curled hair is not becoming to me. How shall I make my features more attractive, and what colors may I wear?"

Answer: (1) You should weigh at least 125 pounds. Please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for answer on "How to Gain Weight." (2) You should see a physician and have his advice on diet and general hygiene. Boils arise from internal conditions. Wash your face very carefully every night with pure castile soap and warm water. Rub very thoroughly first to warm, then to cool water. My belief on "Complexion Pills" gives other suggestions for treatment. (3) Freckles come from wearing the wrong kind of shoes, so that they cannot be cured until you use the right kind of foot wear. Be sure to select shoes that are long and wide enough to permit moving the toes about inside. Hot fer cold applications of water help in mild cases. If the freckles are moderately inflamed, apply a salve made by mixing thoroughly equal parts of zinc oxide powder and white vasoline. Over this place two thicknesses of gauze and cover that a layer of clean absorbent cotton. Rub with strain of adhesive tape and keep all pressure off the spot. Change the dressing daily. When the inflammation has subsided, you may wash with a solution of borax. (4) You must not to describe the shade of your complexion, whether very fair, medium or dark, so that I cannot judge the cause of the freckles. Freckles can be as attractive as curled hair if the hair is in good condition. When you write for the other health ask also for my "Care of the Hair."

ETHEL

How to Use Mud Packs
 Shirley writes: "Please tell me is a Fuller's worth treatment at bath-tubs is good for the skin, and if so, how should I use it?"

Answer: It is not necessary or desirable to use a mud pack every night. Once a week is often enough for the average skin. First, rub a little cold cream into your skin and then steam your face with hot towels for several minutes. Mix two teaspoonfuls of Fuller's earth with one teaspoonful of glycerine and enough water (or milk) to make a paste. Apply this to your face and leave it on until dry. Wash off in tepid water, after having loosened the pack by applying another hot towel. Rinse in cold water, dry and pat on a skin tonic.

Marie writes: "I am 8 feet 2 inches tall, 16 years old and weigh 85 pounds. My waist is 25 inches. hips, 21, calf, 15, and ankle, 8. Please tell me how perfect I am. How can I remove freckles? Will they come back darker and more abundant if removed?"

Answer: You are far from perfect physically, my dear. You should weigh at least 110 pounds. Your weight is right, but your hips and calf are too small and your girth much too large. Use a commercial freckle lotion. No, the freckles will not come in darker unless you expose your skin to the sun again. Freckles cannot be removed permanently.

THE ADVENTURE OF THE ONE-EYED GIANT

With a horrible yell, the giant awakened and sprang to his feet while all of us fled in every direction. He snatched some of the apples from his tree and then groped about blindly, seeking to find us. Finally he threw open the door and stamped into the large hall with him. "Come," I cried, "Follow me, men. We must escape you or perish!" We ran through the jungle until we reached the sea. There we gathered together what logs we could find and fastened them into a crude raft, each one of which would hold three of us. We hoped to launch them by daybreak, and hoped, too, that the giant would be dead by that time, for his cries came fainter and fainter from the island. By daybreak, at least, as it stood sailing inland, I beheld the blind monster, guided by two others of his kind, hastening to us at top speed; and, in the rear, trailed a whole company of these horrid giants.

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

So many roads spread out for us to take. We must choose one—there's no alternative. While down the other ways we dimly see Our other selves who never live but dream.

Are Absent

Canadian Free. The wheat market opened higher on short-croping today, but quickly subsided, owing to lack of trade with closing prices ranging from 1.2 to 1.4 cents lower. The November future registered the extreme low, closing at 1.17.

The shorts were soon satisfied, however, if wheat prices were to fall to fill orders, and speculative interest became the most liberal seller. Export trade was dull again today, with the speculative interest being absent.

Trade in coarse grain was featureless, with values generally following the trend of wheat and closing lower. The cash grain markets continued dull, though some trade was recorded in barley with prices 1-2 cent to 1 cent higher.
